VOLUME 21
NUMBER 2
JANUARY 2002

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by Anna Fornal

Greetings Folks! Happy New Year 2002!

Conference 2001: A Career Work Odyssey was a great success! Held at the Temple Gardens Mineral Spa in Moose Jaw on October 4-5, 2001, it featured a variety of focused and hands-on sessions that provided Career and Work practitioners with an opportunity to learn about new resources and gain new skills. Check out the great pictures on pages four and five of this edition of Career Connections! A special thank you to Carrie Kiefer, our Conference Chairperson, for a job well done.

We were proud to have, as our keynote speaker, Phil Jarvis of the National Life/Work Centre. Phil Jarvis has authored Choices, was the founding National Coordinator of CCIP and initiated Canada Prospects. He was the founding President of Canada WorkinfoNET. He now coordinates the Blueprint for Life/work Designs, coordinated Real Game Series partnerships and advises on national department of education projects in the U. S., the U. K., Australia, New Zealand, Hungary and Denmark. His presentation, "Career Building: Beyond Career Decision-Making" was a highlight of the conference for many.

This year a pre-conference session on the Be Real Game was also offered. Presenters were Wayne Sawka, Mary Lou Ast, and Lynn Peterson.

Other sessions included Destination 2020 (Lynn Peterson); Powerful Portfolios with Practical Implications: Multiple Intelligence and the Portfolio Process (Shelley Hosaluk and Murray Guest); Career and Work Exploration (CWE) Resources (Ray Robertson); Ready for Work Resources (Carole Sedgwick and Peter Lavalley); Saskatchewan Labour Force Development Board (Ashley Topuschak).

Our Annual General Meeting also generated many good ideas. The possibility of joint-conferencing is being pursued. As well, a resolution to support The Role of the School Report Recommendation 15.0 on Career Education has been submitted for discussion at Spring Council.

On another note, I must express a special thank you to the great folks on the SCWEA Executive. Returning this year are Mary Lou Ast, Judy Behrns, Shelley Hosaluk, Carrie Kiefer, Hazel Lorenz, Bill Pennefather, Lynn Peterson, and Wayne Sawka. New this year is Dennis Moffat of Saskatoon. Carrie Kiefer serves in a one-year appointment as Vice President. We all look forward to serving you.

I hope you have a great year!

Cheers,
Anna

CONNECTIONS

Editor's Message:

"Beyond the Odyssey"

By Shelley Hosaluk

The Role of the School document identifies strong support from students and trustees for career education in schools. In particular, students made direct recommendations that career education and career counselling be made available to improve their learning environment. Career education:

...needs to be seen as part of the self-assessment and evaluation components of Core Curriculum. As such, career education includes goal setting and research. This understanding and these skills will equip them for lifelong learning and for following multiple career paths, rather than thinking of the matter simply in terms of finding 'the right' career. (Tymchak, 2001, 94)

The Task Force urges "the Saskatchewan education community to honour and act upon the request of students for enhanced career exploration and career education opportunities: and "that wherever possible career exploration and career opportunities be articulated with the academic program so that these curriculum and learning opportunities are mutually supportive, rather than competitive" (Tymchak, 2001, 93). Career exploration and planning, developed in the context of an individualized student portfolio, for example, can occupy a vital and valid place in an improved learning environment. Inherent in the design, the portfolio enhances the school experience for students by providing a process that is relevant and meaningful; thus connecting subject areas and personal interests with the greater community.

SCWEA AWARDS 2001

Each year SCWEA recognizes individuals or organizations that have made outstanding contributions in the area of Career and Work Exploration in Saskatchewan. The following awards were presented at our annual general meeting in Moose Jaw.

Friends of Career and Work Education - Sask Labour: Alan Walker, Marlene Smale and Carole Sedgwick

These awards are presented to non-educators who have assisted in the development and promotion of Career Work Education in Saskatchewan.

Linda Reynolds presented this award to Carole Sedgwick on behalf of Sask Labour.

"Rarely over my career have I had the opportunity to work with materials of the quality of Ready for Work. Not only quality but the quantity of materials which are available. There are materials to use in all of Grades 9-12, not only in the Career Work programs, but also in all of the Practical and Applied Arts. And now we have the facilitation workshops to look forward to starting this month. It is my pleasure to present this Friends of Career Work Education award to Sask Labour and to Allan Walker, Marlene Smale and Carole Sedgwick."

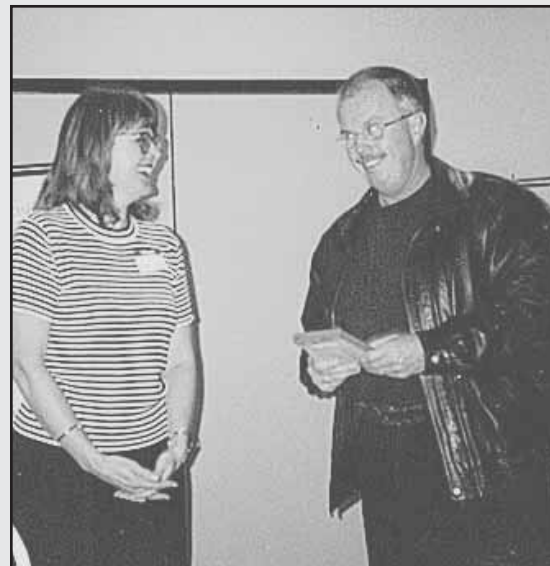

Recognition of Service Awards - Bill Pennefather and Lynn Peterson

These awards are presented to members who have made recent and present contributions to Career Work Education in Saskatchewan.

One of this year's winners is Bill Pennefather.

Bill started his teaching career in 1975. During those early years, Bill initiated an Alternative Work Education Program in Enderby, British Columbia. He also attended the founding meeting of CCWEAC in Winnipeg in 1982. From 1985 to the present Bill has been employed with Saskatoon Public Schools. Most of these years have included involvement in a Career or Work Education Program. For the past two years, Bill has been the Youth Internship Coordinator. The Youth Internship Program is designed to provide specific training to students who have demonstrated a definite interest in a particular industry. The program blends in-school education with work site experience.

Bill has been part of the SCWEA executive for the last four years. Currently he is the secretary-treasurer. He also chaired the last SCWEA convention that was held in Saskatoon in 1999. The one area where Bill stands well above the rest, an area that no SCWEA member has ventured before, is that of SCWEA web site master. Bill is the major architect of this venture. If you know Bill, you will know, working with computers is one of his passions; therefore, captaining our web site is a natural fit. He does an exceptional job on the web site. I encourage you to check it out at www.scwea.com.

The Award of Excellence - Judy Behrns

This award is presented to the SCWEA member who has made the most outstanding contribution to the development of Career Work Education in Saskatchewan - presented by Lynn Peterson:

Judy Behrns is a leader "par excellence" in the Saskatchewan Career/Work Education community. Her participation in this area has taken many forms that of Practical and Applied Arts Consultant with the Regina Public Schools, innovator of new collaborative programs and partnerships, counsellor, curriculum developer and teacher of, and expert in the applied arts.

With roots in the private sector, Judy has brought clear thinking and common sense to SCWEA. Her advice is sought and valued by her colleagues and she is generous with the help that she is willing to provide. She is interested in new innovation and seizes the opportunity to enhance Career/Work planning opportunities for students.

Judy is a person who "focuses on the journey". She works hard and plays hard an indication of the balance that is evident in her life. In addition to her occupational roles, she is a wife, mother, golfer, basketball fan, and highly esteemed friend. Humour is woven throughout her personality as evidenced by the long-standing practical jokes that pass back and forth between Judy and her collaboration buddy Wayne Sawka.

Community netWORKS, an award winning partnership between Regina Public, Regina Catholic, Buffalo Plains school divisions and many community partners, offers programming for three distinct and essential groups; students, educators and community members. Project activities compliment and enhance Career Development programs that already exist in Regina and area schools. This project is a testament to Judy and her co-coordinator's organizational ability, public relations skills, knowledge of current innovation and the ability to follow through.

Judy believes in experiential learning, taking a "people" approach and taking measured risks that start small and build. It is an honour to present the SCWEA Award of Excellence to Judy Behrns.

Bill, through your commitment, effort, and hard work, we thank you. You are indeed a credit to our organization.

Another of this year's winners is Lynn Peterson. Over the years she has been an efficient school counsellor, a dynamic consultant, and an extremely effective workshop presenter whose insight and expertise has helped improve the delivery of career development in our schools.

And what about this woman, herself? She is honest, intelligent, witty, and understanding. People say that she is a woman of dynamic talent whose ideas and ideals benefit all who come in contact with her.

There are many valid reasons why she is deserving of this award. That's not to mention that she: piloted a Career Education class from 1993 to 1995 plus she has participated in or facilitated many "Real Game" workshops throughout Saskatchewan, and facilitated Middle Years Career Education workshops. Certainly it is an honour for Lynn, but we are equally honoured to have her with SCWEA.

Lynn, we thank you for your efficiency: thank you for those times when we were debating many SCWEA issues, that were resolved because of your expertise and depth of understanding: thank you for caring about career development in our province.
